

World class manufacturing at South Africa's fingertips

MANUFACTURING has a critical part to play in South Africa, but it must be able to survive the relentless infiltration of international competition. It requires synchronised efforts from all involved domestically, which remains a very complex and dynamic challenge. The Manufacturing Indaba provides the perfect platform to drive Africa's growth through productive face - time between the relevant stakeholders in the Manufacturing industry. It is a launch pad for key players to have their say and be a part of the way forward for this essential sector. About the Manufacturing Indaba
